

Alternative Loan Programs

Alternative, or private loans are educational loans that exist outside of the federal financial aid program. To be approved for an alternative loan, the borrower must be credit worthy or have a credit worthy co-signer. The majority of alternative loans are borrowed in the student's name (with a parent as a co-signer). However, there are now some alternative loan programs that allow a parent, grandparent, or guardian be the primary borrower. (See below for more information.)

As a wise consumer, you should review and compare alternative loan programs to find the right fit for your needs. It is your responsibility as a borrower to ensure that each step of the application process is completed.

Notre Dame College will work with any private/alternative lender and does not have a preferred lender list for alternative loans.

Visit our website at www.notredamecollege.edu/finaid and click on "Alternative Loan Information" for more information and links to comparison tools that allow you to accurately compare rates and terms from multiple private loan lenders side-by-side.
