

Notre Dame College honored its chaplain and professor emeritus,

FR. EDWARD E. MEHOK—who has spent more than 50 years ministering and teaching at the College—with the 2013 Fidelity Award, one of the highest honors the College bestows.

Friends of Notre Dame share their appreciation for Fr. Mehok's distinguished service and fidelity:

"Beloved Friday preacher, you always found some clever connection between life at the College and life in the world. All Notre Dame College is grateful for your excellent homilies, your many gifts."

Sr. Therese Marie McCloskey, SND, '49
former Notre Dame College Faculty Member

"Thank you, Fr. Mehok, for all you have done for Notre Dame College for more than half a century. What a remarkable achievement."

M. Joan McCarthy,
Notre Dame College Board of Trustees

"You always value the complexity and surprise in life. Your appreciation for satire and the ironic keeps your audience always alert whether they are your students at the seminary, the middle school students at St. John of the Cross or the Saturday evening congregation here in Christ the King Chapel. You are a man for all seasons, a man with a zest for life, a man of prayer, a Renaissance man."

Sr. Carol Ziegler, SND,
Notre Dame College Special Assistant to the President for Mission

"Sometimes on the ski slope, on the tennis court, enjoying the Cleveland Orchestra or writing an article for Superman's 50th anniversary, you relish the richness of life and call others to embrace all that is human. Fr. Mehok, your faithfulness to daily preparation for your homilies, to scripture classes for your adults or to your Notre Dame College classes is always very evident."

Sr. Mary Frances Murray, SND, Notre Dame College Academic Support Center

"Experienced faculty, like Tony LaVerde and his family, are delighted when you are able to preside at a family wedding. New staff members, like Scott Swain, are comfortable asking if they might renew their wedding vows at a daily Mass."
